Shower Screen Installation Outside of Hob – Waiver and Acknowledgment of Risk

Civic Shower Screens and Wardrobes has been requested to install a shower screen on the outside edge of the shower hob, contrary to standard installation practices and in breach of Australian Standards (AS 1288 and AS 3740). While Civic is committed to delivering high-quality workmanship, we must advise that this request falls outside of compliance requirements and increases the risk of product failure, water leakage, and non-compliance with building codes.

Acknowledgment and Acceptance

By signing this waiver, I acknowledge and accept the following:

- I have been informed that installing a shower screen to the outside of the hob is non-compliant with Australian Standards and contrary to Civic's recommended installation practices.
- Civic will not issue any compliance documents or Forms (including Form 15 or 16) related to this shower screen installation.
- Any warranty relating to leaks, water ingress, product failure, or installation issues will be void as a result of this non-standard installation.
- Civic will not be held liable for any damages, defects, or failures arising from this installation, including but not limited to water damage, mould, or structural deterioration.
- I indemnify Civic for any claims, damages, costs, or liabilities arising from the decision to proceed against Civic's advice and industry standards.
- Civic reserves the right to refuse future service or support relating to this product or installation.

Australian Standards Disclaimer

This installation will not comply with AS 1288 (Glass in Buildings – Selection and Installation) and AS 3740 (Waterproofing of Wet Areas in Residential Buildings). Proceeding with this installation may impact certification, insurance claims, and future property sales due to non-compliance with national building regulations.
